University College Dublin Collections in Europeana

2013 Edition

<http://www.europeana.eu/>

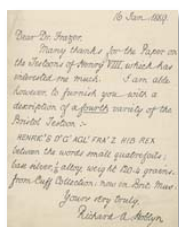

September 2013

University College Dublin (UCD) has been involved with Europeana since 2009, firstly through the Irish Virtual Research Library and Archive (IVRLA) project (now completed), and subsequently through the UCD Digital Library (<http://digital.ucd.ie>). We currently have 11 collections available through the Europeana portal (<http://www.europeana.eu/>).

The collections included offer a snapshot of the rich cultural heritage material available in the source repositories in UCD. Represented in Europeana are UCD Archives, UCD Library Special Collections, National Folklore Collection, and UCD Mícheál Ó Cléirigh Institute.
